The morning prayer meeting was well attended. The subject was, "How May the Christians Have a Good Induence Upon the World?" led by Dr. Hurbut. He said: "Once there was just 120 Christians in the whole world, but now the number reaches millions and millions. What has made it grow? Because they confessed Christ, taught Christ, lived Christ and talked Christ to others."

This morning the Biblical institute listened to a lecture by Professor Kent upon "The Establishment of the Hebrew Monarchy."

"The Establishment of the Hebrew Monarchy."

Mrs. Prueszner's young people's class studied the "History of the Life of Moses."

The W. C. T. U. school of methods listened to a paper by Mrs. J. C. Reed, of Garnett, on the subject of "Why Is Temperance Teaching Necessary." The objection that is offered nowadays that laws cannot be enforced, unless supported by public sentiment, was considered. She thinks the best way to make public opinion for the future is to train the children right on the temperance question, and when they get older, the public sentiment will support the law. She regards temperance instruction in the Sunday school, as well as the public school, as one of the most important departments of the W. C. T. U. work.

The women's council this morning listened to an address by Mrs. Dorothy Bishop, of Chautauqua, on the "Practical Value of Beauty." Mrs. Bishop brought out the idea that beauty is not only to be regarded as an external accomplishment, but that the cultivation of beauty is valuable to us, aiding us to communicate with our friends by proper expressions, and convey to them our innermost feelings. Mrs. Bishop's physical culture classes, which are held dally, are quite popular, and these eld dally, are quite popular, and these ctures before the councils are awakening

MR. VEST HAD NO PULL.

His Influence With Secretary Morton Seems to Be Nil.

Washington, June 22.-(Special.) Secretary Morton is stirring up matters in re-organizing the state for statistical work. By a new arrangement Missouri and Kansas form one district, which makes it neces-sary to drop one of the men employed, E. S. Garver, of Grant City, Mo., has been the statistician for that state and Harry O. Garvey, of Topeka, was the Kansas O. Garvey, of Topeka, was the Kansas agent. The secretary has been urged by the Missouri friends of Garver to retain him for the new district, and Mr. Garvey, of Topeka, secured a letter from his stalwart frind, Overmyer, who had secured for him his original appointment. Secretary Morton also, it is claimed, received a letter from Senator Vest, in which it was stated that Mr. Garver, at Grant City, as he understood, was about to be ousted. The senator said that Garver was a good friend of his, or had been in the past and he would be pleased to have him retained as against the Kansas man.

There was no longer any hesitation on the part of Secretary Morton. By his direction the services of Senator Vest's friend, Mr. Garver, have been dispensed with and Mr. Garvey, of Topeka, will be retained to make monthly reports for both states.

A NEW MAN FOR KANSAS CITY.

Secretary Mortor Will Give a Cornell Stu dent Charge of the Veterinary Work at the Stock Yards.

Washington, June 22.-(Special.) A Cor-nell man is to be placed at the head of the veterinary work of the department of agriculture at Kansas City. At present this is under the direction of Drs. Brooking and Dr. Shier. The work is carried on in two divisions, heared by there gentlemen. It is desired by Secretary Morton to have one man in charge of the whole work and whether or not the selection of a Cornell man will interfere with Drs. Brooking and Silier, the secretary is unable the new man may recommend. This matter has been under consideration by the secretary for some time. As he desired to get a good man, it occurred to him that Cornell university has the reputation of turning out the best graduates in this line and hence it is from Cornell that the new man is to come.

out the best graduates in this line and hence it is from Cornell that the new man is to come.

Serietary Morton said to-day that this branch was very important in the work at Kansas City. That station was more important in an all round way than any other and he was determined to do all he could in the line of applying business principles to the work there. For this reason he had not conteil Albert Dean, in charge of the importion for the Kansas City district. In answer to efforts during this week to get Dean composed. Secretary Morton said that the Journal could quote him as saying that as men having interests in Kansas City had employed Dean long hefore he ever suspected that he would have charge of the department of agriculture and that those men had acted on business principles, as far as he was concerned he intended to do his best to accasions the same line. "It Dean should die," remarked the secretary. They ask me what I would do. Well, when that occurs we will meet the situation but from a purely business standpoint I hope he won't die until after I cease to have anything to do with the business. You see, 'said the secretar,' "a raw man in that place would kill millions of dollars worth of cattle all through the country coming from the infected region, and should such a thing happen, the first men to rush into the papers to criticise me and the department, would be those who are repeatedly urging me to oust Dean. No man could carry on the business better than Doan is doing and cattlemen who are not mixed up in politics know this." doing and cattlemen who are not mixed up in polities know this."

INVESTORS ARE ACTIVE.

PUTTING MONEY IN KANSAS CITY REAL ESTATE AT PROPER TIME.

The Hot Season Is On, but There Is Still Good Demand for Property-Strong Revival Expected Early in September.

Real estate dealers report that the realty market shows decided improvement when compared with its condition last year. The demand for good vacant property is said to be as steady as it was early this year, and it is noticeable that the number of transfers is greater. W. H. Paret said vesterday yesterday:

"I am fully convinced that next September will see a strong revival in real estate. While much may not be done just now, it is evident that a number of people are preparing for a live market when the hot weather is over. The parties who are buying now are doing wisely, for prices are as low as they will ever be, and when once the parks and bonevaries. and when once the parks and boolevards have been begun, prices will go up. I am almost certain that by next fall there will be a gain of at least ff on every foot of property in the city. It is certain, too, that things are in much better shape than that things are in much better shape than they were last year. The demand for lots and houses is greater, generally, people are more interested and there is more buying. I think this move lowards parks and boulevards was the very best thing that could have betallen us real estate men, for it is sure to stimulate activity. I do not see why a min who buys a good piece of property this summer will not make double on his investment next fall. John Bush, of Bush Bros. said: "Undoubtedly the market is improving, it is in a much more encouraging condition than it was at this time best year. Not only are the inquiries most frequent, but the number of transfers is greater. Last year about half of the sales were nothing more than trades, but this year the sales are actual sales. In order to understand this it is simply necessary to look at the records of transfers published in the papers. You have no idea how great the improvement is unless you have watched the records and noted the increase in business this year. While the considerations may not be large the fact remains there is reiling being done."

ing done."

James B. Welsh, of Crutcher & Welsh, said: "There is plenty of inquiry nowadays, though buyers are careful how they invest. And yet so far as our firm has been concerned, we have been kept pretty busy. I have two large deals unfer consideration to-day, which shows that investors are not lacking. As to there being an improvement over that year there is no question at all. I think that all the agents will agree that business is better."

is no question at all. I think that all the agents will agree that business is better."

That many of the real estate agents are alive to the situation is evidenced by the fact that active stens are being taken by the Real Estate and Stock exchange to create a renewed interest in that organization and through it enliven the market. The middle of this week earnest work is to begin, and every energy devoted to showing Kansas Cityans and the outside world that local real estate interests are not nearly as dead as they are said to be. Yesterday E. H. Phelps & Co, sold six acres of land on Blue avenue, adjoining Washington park to D. D. Drake, for Karnes, Holmes & Krauthoff and New York parties for $4,000, D. S. ADDRESS TO LABORERS.

General Master Workman Sovereign Spenk at Turner Hall Some of the Things

He Sald. General Master Workman James P. Sov. ereign, of the Knights of Labor, spoke last evening at Turner hall, under the auspices of the local organization of the Knights of Labor, and was listened to by about 200 people. He used no notes in making the address, but depended on the inspiration of the audience. The address contained some good points: it contained some that in such profusion do not all exist, save in the imagination of over zealous people. Some of his criticisms were well directed and landed hard blows on existing wrongs. Taken all in all, there was more of good than otherwise in the address, and it was patriotic and inspiring in many points.

In making the addresses to the laboring people, Mr. Sovereign is taking a very pronounced stand on the subject of strikes and kindred troubles in the labor world. He is pointing out to the voters that in case wrongs exist from which they suffer it is largely their own fault. There are pienty of votes among the working people to carry any point they may need or desire in case they stand together and vote as their interests dictate. If they do not do this they can shoulder their own blame and bear the burlens that may follow their wrong doing. One thing about his addresses is that he does not mine words. He has the courage of his convictions and drives straight at the mark he aims to reach.

peaker. Mr. Sovereign began by saying that there Mr. Sovereign began by saying that there appeared to be a loose wheel somewhere in the machinery of government, something was wreng and people had grown to look upon poverty as a habit. He wanted the habit changed and let the people be prosperous. He thought when a man proved his right to live on the earth he established the right to concern to his comfort. Picturing the wretched condition of the wage workers in the large cities he declared that a system that admitted of such results was never born in heaven. He discussed the great advancement in the arts and sciences and pictured the conthe arts and sciences and pictured the con-dition of the country as such progress ought to have made it. He attacked sav-agely the child labor custom and asked for the support of all lovers of humanity in wipling it out of existence. The burdens of life, he declared, had not ben reduced in proportion to the progress made in mate-rial matters. He thought the farmer no happier than when he used a fail and cradle, now that he has the relf-binder and the steam thresher. The conditions had brought forth the dude and the tramp, such doctrines. He defended the into of alliver in a strong manner and defor its being placed in the original at once and supported his position strong emphasis. Stewart's Third Addition Kansas City, Mo.

The Diamond Drug Store, Main St.

This new addition has been warmly received by the real estate men and appreciated by purchasers. On June 18 the deed passed from Mary C. Stewart and Patterson Stewart, and in less than one week nearly one-third of the addition has been sold. Such success comes only to the merit of the location and the reasonableness of the price. I desire to close out the entire addition before July 15, and invite the attention of buyers to this property.
